

Fatema B. Rasul

EDUCATION

PhD candidate, University of Heidelberg, Institute of Public Health, 2014 - present

MPH, James P. Grant School of Public Health, BRAC University, 2012

MBBS, Ibrahim Medical College, Dhaka University, 2009

OVERVIEW

I am trained as a medical doctor from Bangladesh, and hold a Master degree in Public Health. I worked as a senior research associate and as a lecturer in the James P Grant School of Public Health, BRAC University for over two years. I have experience in working closely with BRAC health programmes, and have collaborated in the development of a health insurance product while working in BRAC healthcare innovations programme. I joined the health economics and health financing group of University of Heidelberg in March 2014, as a doctoral student. My doctoral thesis applies mixed methods to assess and understand health care use and household expenditure for chronic non communicable diseases in Bangladesh.

LANGUAGES

English, Bangla, Hindi

HONORS AND AWARDS

- USAID's Next Generation of Public Health Experts Project PhD scholarship for Women, 2013-2016

PUBLICATIONS & BOOK CHAPTERS

- Rasul FB, Shawon MSR, Nazneen S, Hossain FB, Malik SS, Islam MT: Do the dietary and lifestyle practices make the private medical students overweight: A cross-sectional study in Bangladesh? Journal of Biology, Agriculture and Healthcare 2013, 3:130–139.
- Rasul FB, Datta N, Alam MJ, Bardhan M, Chowdhury AS, Mahmood CD, Mizan MSB, Roni RB, Ghosh J, Majumder RI, Ferdous SA, Sherin R, Hassan M, Rashid MM: Nutritional Status, Proteinuria and Glycosuria among Primary School Children in a Rural Community of Bangladesh. Ibrahim Medical College Journal 2008, 2:35–36.