

Inter-Faculty Seminar Series

Health Economics

UNIVERSITÄT
HEIDELBERG
ZUKUNFT
SEIT 1386

Heidelberg University

Inter-Faculty Health Economics Seminar Series

Thursdays, 12:00–13:00

Bergheimer Straße 20, Seminar Room 215

3rd THURSDAY
OF THE MONTH AT 12 NOON

Summer Term 2017

Date	Speaker	Title
18.05.2017	Stephan Brenner Institute of Public Health Heidelberg University	The impact of performance-based financing on effective emergency obstetric care coverage
22.06.2017	Jürgen Maurer Faculty of Business and Economics University of Lausanne	Assessing medicine affordability among persons with chronic diseases in LMICs: The interplay between drug prices, social epidemiology and unmet need
20.07.2017	Pamela Wronski Department of General Practice and Health Services Research Heidelberg University Hospital	A Delphi study on indicators for cross-sectoral health care planning in Baden-Württemberg

This seminar series aims to bring together researchers, students, practitioners, and others from different disciplines and departments with interest in health economics. Everyone is welcome.

It is a brown-bag seminar series, please feel free to bring lunch.

Organization 2017: Manuela De Allegri and Stefan Kohler, Institute of Public Health, Heidelberg University. For more information or to subscribe to the mailing list of this seminar series, contact: manuela.de.allegri@urz.uni-heidelberg.de or stefan.kohler@uni-heidelberg.de.