

SFB 873

3rd Young Scientist Retreat

Kurhaus Trifels, Germany

Information

Preliminary program:

- Short talks of members of the SFB 873
- Invited speakers
- Brainstorming sessions
- Poster session
- Outdoor social event

Registration:

There is no registration fee.

To register please send your abstract to h.uckelmann@dkfz.de by the 22nd of February 2013. Your abstract should be submitted as a word document, with a maximum of 500 words. Please indicate your preference of oral or poster presentation in your email. The slots will be filled on a first come, first serve basis, so let us know as soon as possible if you want to participate.

Board and lodging:

Transportation by bus, housing, meals and teambuilding activities during the retreat are free of charge. No reimbursement for private transportation. Please inform us in advance about special dietary requirements such as food allergies or vegetarian diet.

Location:

Annweiler am Trifels is located in the middle of the Palatine Forest and is most well known for its medieval castle at an elevation of 500m. Our seminars will take place in Kurhaus Trifels, while most of the guest rooms are located nearby in the Pension Bergterrasse.

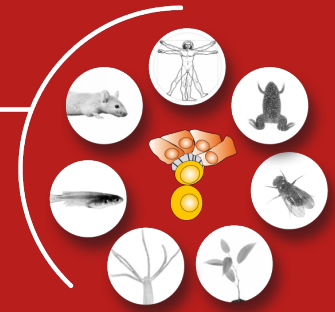

Contact:

If you have any further questions, please contact Hannah Uckelmann (h.uckelmann@dkfz.de).

SFB 873

3rd Young Scientist Retreat

Kurhaus Trifels, Germany

The Collaborative Research Center

“Maintenance and Differentiation of Stem Cells in Development and Disease”

SFB 873 welcomes young investigators to join the

3rd Young Scientist Retreat

Chairs: Hannah Uckelmann, Dr. Susanne Bartels

APRIL 15 - 17, 2013

The purpose of this retreat is to connect PhD students and Postdocs interested in stem cell research. We want to stimulate networking and discussions on work in progress, to generate new ideas and collaborations across the various fields of stem cell research. Young scientists from within and outside of the SFB 873 are encouraged to attend.

Registration Info: www.sfb873.de

Deadline for registration: February 22, 2013

For more information and detailed program please visit our website www.sfb873.de or contact Hannah Uckelmann (h.uckelmann@dkfz.de).